Bassett Mechanical Named Contractor of the Year by PHC News

KAUKAUNA, WI –Bassett Mechanical is proud to be named Contractor of the Year by PHC News. In the December issued publication, PHC News identifies several characteristics that make Bassett Mechanical distinctive including their effective Behavior Based Safety Program, 85-year history, comprehensive capabilities, and customer-centered approach. Included among these pillars is the company’s long-standing motto “We Answer to You®”, and vision of Creating Customers for Life®.

“We are honored to be highlighted as Contractor of the Year,” says Kim Bassett, President & CEO. “We are passionate about safely providing exceptional value and Creating Customers for Life®. This is a great way to recognize our associates for their focus on safe and responsible solutions and strong customer relationships.”

This extensive seven-page feature details many of the company’s complete solutions, additional Virtual Design and Construction enhancements, and the growth the company has experienced under its second and third generations of family leadership.

Kim Bassett states, “We continuously strive to be seen as ‘Contractor of the Year’ in our customer’s eyes and are committed to bringing their ideas to life through our uniquely customized solutions. From idea to implementation, we are here to partner with them every step of the way.”
